

Program

New Security Challenges for Europe - What is the role of Germany and the Baltic States for a common security in Europe?

After Russia's unprovoked attack on Ukraine on February 24, 2022, the world is no longer the same as it was before. Chancellor Scholz was right to speak of a "turning point in time". In addition to the domestic political consequences, the Central and Eastern European states in particular are experiencing this new reality in a very exposed and intense way. What expectations are being placed on Germany? What must Germany do to strengthen Europe and its direct partners in Eastern and Central Europe? What contribution can the Baltic States make to strengthening our common security?

23.05.2023

Akademie der Konrad-Adenauer-Stiftung
Tiergartenstraße 35
10785 Berlin

Tuesday, 23rd May 2023

19.00 Uhr

Welcome

Caroline Kanter

Deputy Head of the European and International Cooperation Department
Konrad-Adenauer-Stiftung

19.10 h

Discussion between

Dr. Norbert Röttgen

Member of the Committee on Foreign Affairs
German Bundestag

Inese Libina-Egnere

Minister of Justice
Republic of Latvia

Žygimantas Pavilionis

Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Affairs
Seimas of the Republic of Lithuania

and

Riina Solman

Deputy member of the European Affairs Committee
Riigikogu of the Republic of Estonia

moderated by

Dr. Christian Mölling

Deputy Director of the Research Institute; Head of the Center for Security and Defense.

Deutsche Gesellschaft für Auswärtige Politik (DGAP)

afterwards

Reception